EXPERTISE

Fiona Piegay-Karrer is an assistant in the Real Estate practice group based in Geneva. Prior to joining the firm in 2015, she studied for two university degrees and gained professional work experience in sales and office management. Fiona was then hired as a marketing project executive at a large news agency before being promoted to marketing communication and event manager. A few years later, she moved to a Swiss telecommunications provider where she worked as a direct marketing manager for nine years.
