EXPERTISE

Yoanna Garric is an assistant in the Tax practice group. She first joined the firm in 2010 and spent seven years in the Private Clients practice group, before returning once again in 2020 having worked as an assistant in a smaller law firm for two and a half years where she coordinated submissions for legal guidelines at a national level. Prior to working at Lenz & Staehelin, Yoanna achieved an MA in Political Science and Government at Université Lumière Lyon II. This was followed by volunteer work at UNDP in Bangladesh which involved implementing a programme to promote the employment of women and indigenous peoples within the Ministry of Public Administration.
